OCTILLO — The “40 Frames” exhibit, featuring images of the Imperial Valley, opened Friday at the Imperial Valley Desert Museum.

Michael Field, Scott Drew, John Hogan and Joselito Villero were the showcased artists. Entertainment for the evening also included Southwest Academic for the Visual and Performing Arts Dance students who performed a few vignettes from their recent show, “Almost, Main” as well as live music.

“The majority of my work is exploring good and bad and the man on an upscale landscape,” he said.

“By far I’m very impressed,” said Barbara廢. “It gives you a different view of all the beauty in the Valley.”

No information was listed for the Imperial County last year but the fungus has spread to Orange County and backyard trees. Eskalen says he first became aware of the problem in 2002 when he was looking for a suitable tree to plant in his backyard.
