

Virtual Education Programming at IVDM

FREE Education Video Lessons

Over the summer, IVDM wrote, filmed, and wrapped on filming a 13-episode education video series geared toward grades K-12. These videos take students on a traveling field trip across Imperial County and San Diego, introducing them to the history and heritage still visible in the land today. We will be offering these FREE video lessons on the museum's YouTube channel and website. Each video lesson includes an accompanying worksheet to reiterate video lessons to students.

Virtual Field Trips

IVDM is proud to announce the new offering of live-streamed virtual field trips for local classrooms via Zoom!

These virtual field trips will be available for grades K-12; each lesson will focus on local indigenous history, science, and an optional art component fulfilling current California Common Core Standards and Next Generation Science Standards. Pricing for our virtual field trips can be as low as $1.88 per student if a whole district wishes to participate; pricing will vary depending on the number of students signed up. Please contact us for further pricing and booking information.

CONTACT US:

For additional questions or booking information please call or email us at:

(760) 358-7016

education@ivdesertmuseum.org